SAN FRANCISCO AS PERMANENT PEACE BLUEPRINTED

SIX NATIONS Indians from the Brantford and Caughnawaga reservations are shown in pow-wow in a San Francisco hotel room. They claim a right to join other delegates as an independent power under old-time treaties.

HERE'S ONE of the delegates whose right to attend cannot be questioned. He's Egypt's prime minister, Mahmoud Fahmy el Nokrashy Pasha from Cairo.

FIVE PRINCES of the royal family of Saudi Arabia represent their country at San Francisco. In the centre is the head of the delegation, Faisal Abdul Aziz. The boy prince, back row, is nine.

SOVIET REAR-ADMIRAL Konstantin Rodionov steps from a plane after a flight from Moscow across Siberia and Alaska. The last lap was in a U.S. plane. He was the first Russian delegate to arrive.

THAT'S the United Nations' flag with the four red bars on a white background to represent the four freedoms as listed above. It is the official ensign for San Francisco.

PRIME MINISTER Mackenzie King, en route to the conference, stopped off in Chicago and visited Hull House, a famous centre of social settlement work where he went half a century ago for graduate research. He talks with some of the children.

JAN MASARYK, head of the Czechoslovak deputation and son of his country's first president, gives a press conference on his arrival. He speaks English very fluently.

THE THREE BIG figures in the foreign affairs of the Big Three meet here in the state department at Washington for a private talk before the great conference. Host Edward Stettinius presides. On his left, Russia's Molotov; on the sofa, Britain's Eden.

CAMP FIRE girls, who include a Chinese and a Negress, look at the picture their organization presents to the Frisco conference as a prayer for peace in memory of F.D.R.

INCIDENTS AS THE ALLIES CROSS THE RIVER RHINE

THE LOWER RHINE was crossed by the Canadians in Holland and by the British troops higher up on their left. The latter are seen advancing toward their first objective, Wesel, where 350 Germans were captured.

ROYAL ENGINEERS in their advance into Germany pause for a meal near a farm house. They are not living off the devastated country but on their own rations. Note that the farmer's dog refuses to fraternize.

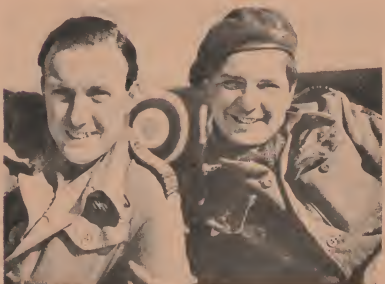

WAR on the whole is a grim thing with little humor in it, but one of the invading army's soldiers can't help but get a big laugh out of a Hitler promise. But it can't be denied that he told nothing but the truth.

WHEN QUEEN Wilhelmina visited a region of Halland the Canadians had liberated, her people everywhere gave her a warm welcome. Military police keep back crowds.

HERE IS ONE of the boats in which the Rhine was crossed. Many hands carry it from truck to river. Its weight is a ton but the portage is just 100 yards long.

THIS PAIR of fliers manned the forward visual control post during the airborne landings to the east of the Rhine which greatly facilitated the main crossings.

ARE YOU A Postwar Planner?

●If you are, here's a bedroom idea to clip and put in your home planning file. Before you put it away, however, note the smart, colourful Marboleum floor. Linoleum is becoming more and more popular as the flooring for many rooms in the house and Marboleum is an outstanding choice. Its wide range of colours and pattern effects enables floors to become a part of the decorating scheme.

Other features which make Marboleum attractive are its resilience, its long-wearing qualities and the ease with which it can be cleaned.

FLOORS

THE MAN in the centre is, of course, outstanding in this bunch of German prisoners. He claimed to be a priest who had resumed his clerical garb but was still wearing army boots. He was caught in the 7th Army drag net and was held a prisoner while his claims were investigated.

OVERCROWDING in Toronto or Montreal street cars is never like this jam-packed public conveyance in Brussels. It illustrates the British soldier's passion for "soccer." There was a football game in the city's suburbs. They all wanted to go. So they just piled in, on and on top.

AMONG the 1,200 soldiers liberated by U.S. troops from one of the German prisoners-of-war camps were these, who being Russians and Yugoslavs, had, of course, received the worst possible treatment. It will be noted the collar fits very loosely around that bearded fellow's neck.

IN TYROLESE costume the famous Franz von Papen, now a U.S. prisoner, is thinking perhaps how he can wriggle out of this difficulty as he has wriggled out of many others in the course of his long and eventful life.

RUSSIAN workers held as slaves in Germany are being helped out of a basement which their Nazi guards set on fire when Allied troops entered the town. Many died in the fire. Others were saved by artificial respiration.

MACHINE-GUNS were responsible for the death of these civilian prisoners whom their German guards killed, when they fled. But many of them would have died in any case, for they were in the last stages of starvation.

CACTUS FURNITURE

CACTUS, Herbert Wood of Tucson, Ariz., has found, can be made into furniture. Here he brings in material for a chair or table.

A BURRO, pack animal in the desert, is being loaded with dried saguaro and cholla trunks and branches for furniture.

THE CACTUS man measures a big saguaro. It is that outside layer of tough ribs, looking like bamboo, that he makes use of.

HE HAS a profitable business selling to tourists things like these under the name, "cactcraft." The cactus variety is cholla.

THE FUTURE BELONGS TO THOSE WHO PREPARE FOR IT

BUT SANDY CAN'T DO EVERYTHING

The daughter of the house—so lovely and so beloved—is safe and warm in her little bed. Sandy, too, sleeps peacefully, but at the slightest sound his eyes open—his ears perk up—and he sets all nerves alert to fight in the face of danger.

Yes, Sandy is a tried and true night watchman—and a trusted guard in daytime too. But there are many things he cannot do. He has no means to protect against the unknown future. Only Dad can manage that—and best, through life insurance. By planning an adequate Prudential program he can provide for the needs of his family in case they should ever be left without him. He can arrange with The Prudential to provide money for current expenses, for emergencies, for the education of his children, for the many needs that cannot be anticipated now.

Through Prudential, wise fathers secure a welcome peace of mind—knowing their families are provided for in the days to come, as well as in the present.

You will be interested in the various types of policies Prudential offers for such family needs. Call your nearest Prudential representative, and invite him to show you what these plans can do for your family.

CROSSING the equator, the crew of the Canadian cruiser Uganda on its way to fight Japan were initiated into King Neptune's court. Capt. Mainguy, right, and Lt. Brebner.

COMMANDER Hugh F. Pullen, with others on the Uganda who never crossed the equator before, had to submit to hazing. He will be pushed back from his chair into a tank when the court doctor, Chief Stoker Stewart of Victoria, finishes his injection.

THE BEAUTY LIFT THAT L-A-S-T-S

Able Seaman Frank Robinson of Verdun, Quebec, can't wait until Able Seaman James Murray of Montreal puts down his point brush to show him those swell snapshots from home. Their ship is the Castle Class Corvette H.M.C.S. Humberstone, and that's Able Seaman Romeo Filteau of Three Rivers, Quebec, looking on.

"Now do you blame me for bragging...?"

Don't think your boy overseas isn't proud of his home folks . . . his wife or sweetheart . . . his pets! It's almost all he talks about. He'd like so much to introduce you to his pals.

That's why snapshots from home mean so much to our sailors, soldiers and airmen . . . they show them everywhere. Be sure your boy gets his share of snapshots regularly.

War needs are still taking vast quantities of film. So that doesn't leave as much for your Kodak dealer. But keep asking — and when you get a roll, use it only to make snapshots for him.

RAISING TIGER BABIES

MRS. FRED MARTINI, the wife of the keeper of New York's zoo, often acts as foster mother to many tiger babies and little lions, too. Above, she kisses a purring little tiger after its bath. Right, another listens to a radio set. He prefers jungle rhythms.

CATS don't like water and neither does this tiger cub, Zombesi. In spite of his obvious distaste for this beauty treatment, he gets a scrubbing and rub down every day.

JUST like a kitten he sits on his nurse's lap and takes his bottle very meekly. But his claws are sharp and it is to be noted that she handles him with thick gloves.

"It's Alloyed"

Secret of amazing new-motor oil

MODERN AS TOMORROW is the famous B-A refinery at Clarkson, which makes Peerless Motor Oil. Only an engineer can tell you why High-Vacuum Distillation, Furfural refining, M.E.K. Sub-Zero De-waxing, Catalytic Clay add up to the purest, most efficient lubricating oil yet. But anyone can understand the advantage of protecting that oil against oxidation, to keep engines cleaner, cars running longer... and that's what we do when we "Alloy" Peerless!

LIQUID FIRE? No! Molten aluminum ready to alloy. This huge plant now producing for war will soon be making the very substance of the future... light metal alloys strong as steel, lighter than wood. And just as an alloy gives aluminum strength, so the "alloy" which is an integral part of Peerless Motor Oil gives it strength to resist and go on resisting the tendency of ordinary oils to break down in the engine of your car. This year when you change oil, make sure you get an oil which really will stand up. Change to B-A Peerless! "It's Alloyed."

SHE CAN CHANGE A TIRE... fix a spark plug, make running repairs. She is one of many Canadian girls to whom a car's insides are no longer a mystery. But woman-like she's more careful, more fussy about the condition of the motor. Sure she uses Peerless Motor Oil. She knows: "It's Alloyed," to keep engines cleaner!

WORTH KNOWING MORE ABOUT! Yes, Peerless Motor Oil, B-A's already famous five-point-process motor oil is worth your while finding out about! Now the choice of literally thousands of motorists, it will do a better job in the engine of your car. Tomorrow ask a B-A Dealer for Peerless Motor Oil: "It's Alloyed!"

PAPER SCULPTURE

IN her Greenwich Village studio Erica Gorecka is turning out one of her remarkable paper sculptures. With paper, paste and scissors she makes striking mannikins for some of the smartest New York stores.

THE SCULPTRESS treats one of her creations with a fireproofing liquid sprinkled from a sprayer. The ideas is to reduce the fire hazard latent in her paper figures.

TWO FAMOUS singers, Bidu Sayao and the tenor, Ezio Pinza, are shown in the costumes in which they appeared in "The Marriage of Figaro." This took Miss Gorecka six hours.

How to glorify a floor in a flash!

Sigh!

Discouraging isn't it . . . how a dull, shabby floor makes a whole room look dingy! And it's so unnecessary when Johnson's Self-Polishing Glo-Coat is readily available! And so easy to use . . .

Apply!

There's practically nothing to it! Simply pour a little Glo-Coat on the clean floor, spread it around, and your work is done. Now watch Johnson's Self-Polishing Glo-Coat go to work!

Let Dry!

In just twenty minutes your floor is gleaming! Glo-Coat shines as it dries without rubbing or buffing! Gives linoleum, rubber tile, asphalt, and painted or varnished wood floors lustrous beauty that is protection, too!

Oh My!

How beautiful Glo-Coat makes your linoleum! And it saves it from harmful rubbing and scrubbing, too! Why, regular care with Johnson's Self-Polishing Glo-Coat actually makes linoleum last 6 to 10 times longer!

THE APACHES RIDE AGAIN ALONG THE MEXICO BORDER

THE APACHES were once the fiercest Indians on the plains whose very name caused terror. Here is a detachment of them, still awe-inspiring with lances and feather head-dress, but they are not on the war-path. They are U.S. scouts stationed at ancient Fort Huachuca, and they patrol the Mexico line. On special occasions the Apaches don their tribal regalia, but normally wear khaki.

HIS NAME is William Major, but nonetheless he is a heap big chief, as is shown by his eagle plumes and the wampum belt on his forehead and the tribal marks on his face. He's 43 years old, has served 23 years.

THE COMMANDER of the Huachuca Apaches is briefing two scouts before sending them out on an expedition. His father and grandfather were both U.S. scouts. At 55 he has nine children, four grandchildren.

BEFORE burying the tomahawk with the white man, the Apaches well deserved the reputation which led the French to name after them the toughest desperadoes in the Paris underworld. They turned over a new leaf when they joined the U.S. service, when in 1866 the scouts were organized by Lincoln's successor, Andrew Johnson. They fought in 288 engagements in the frontier wars.

ARROW TIES

SHIRTS, HANDKERCHIEFS, UNDERWEAR, PAJAMAS

The Canadian civilian's duty is to buy War Savings Certificates ... more—yes, more—than he can afford! Don't shirk your duty. Buy 'em till it hurts!

IN WAR REGALIA of the old days, carrying spears and bows and shields with faces painted to show they are on the war path, these Apache scouts attached to Fort Huachuaca in Arizona don costumes on special occasions.

THEY ARE SKILFUL with modern weapons, too, and they are here shown ready to mow an enemy down with a machine-gun, even more effectively than their forefathers did with tamahawks. Some have war decorations.

IT IS REAL movie picture country replete with cactus and chaparral these Huachuaca Apaches work in. If they were miners, rather than scouts, it might be thought there is gold in those hills that he is pointing at.

TIGER HUNT IN A SOVIET JUNGLE

IT'S UNWISE to get too close. That tiger held by veteran Tajik hunter G. Kalugin is alive. In his long life in these Soviet Asiatic jungles, he has killed 18 tigers and captured eight young ones like this.

MANY HANDS make light work even of a tiger. He was shot in a thicket in which he took refuge after a raid on a sheep fold. The local farmers assist the hunters in dragging the corpse out to a nearby wagon trail.

DISCRETION is the better part of valor in tiger hunting and Kalugin doesn't go into the Tajikistan jungles alone. He is seen here with assistants near the Imen river's headwaters. It can be cold at that altitude.

SLINKING down a trail is a young Tajik tiger just as beautifully marked and snarling just as ferociously as any royal Bengal. It is a man-eater, too, if it gets any chance.

 BROKE ALL RECORDS

Discovered by accident in 1905, the famous Cullinan Diamond made record-breaking history. In the rough, it was as large as a lady's fist, and it was feared no buyer could be found for so priceless a gem. However, it was purchased by the Transvaal Government and presented to King Edward VII. In London, the Cullinan was cut into a number of stones. The largest of these is the great drop brilliant illustrated here, which now adorns the head of the King's Royal Sceptre. It rests, along with all the other gems secured from the Cullinan, in the British Crown Jewel Collection in the Tower of London.

TODAY, IT'S BLUEBIRD DIAMONDS... for beauty and perfection. Send for the lovely, color-illustrated, 24-page souvenir album, "Our Marriage," enclosing 50c for handling and postage costs.

DIAMONDS FOR HAPPINESS

THE NEW PRESIDENT

HERE'S ONE from the Truman family album. The old boy, Harry S., was then four years old and more ambitious to be a fireman than president. His brother Vivian was two.

THE PRESIDENT is shown here at high school age, 15. He was a bright boy, but his mother, still alive and now 93, never dreamed he'd live in the White House.

HE DISTINGUISHED himself in the last war and rose to the rank of major. He's seen here as a lieutenant in the artillery. When senator he tried to enlist in this conflict.

A FEW HOURS after Franklin D. Roosevelt's death, Harry S. Truman took the oath as his successor. By his side are Mrs. Truman and his daughter.

FILM STARS ASEA AND ASHORE

JOAN CAULFIELD, Paramount star, stands her trick at the wheel when she goes yachting on quiet days off the California coast. She hasn't been long on the west coast but she took to salt water like a sea-gull, and is already an enthusiastic sailboat fan.

LIKE OTHER people, film stars vary in their tastes. While Joan likes the roaring surf and howling gales, M-G-M's Lucille Ball's idea of spring fun is to go to admire the grass and the birds, and in a billowing skirt to sit down in a meadow gay with flowers.

Are you in the know?

Do you think her dancing position—

- ☐ Is smooth and relaxed
- ☐ Helps a tall girl look shorter
- ☐ Looks affected

Let your dancing be light but not fantastic. Strangle-holds are tiring. Any exaggerated pose looks affected. So stand naturally, comfortably . . . for comfort is the first step toward dancing skill. That's why, on trying days, most prom-trotting girls choose cushion-soft Kotex sanitary napkins. They know there's all the difference in the world between Kotex and pads that just 'feel' soft at first touch . . . because Kotex stays soft while wearing.

Between sets, do you preserve your wave

- ☐ By combing only
- ☐ By brushing and combing
- ☐ By using a net

You can brush your wave and keep it, too. Best hair care calls for brushing and combing in direction hairdo will follow. Then wave can be gently coaxed into place. Fastidious grooming promotes your confidence. So does Kotex—the only napkin made to suit your own special needs. Only Kotex comes in 3 sizes, for different women, different days. Choose Regular Kotex in the blue box, Junior Kotex in the green box or Super Kotex in the brown box.

IT'S A WISE GIRL who knows that a powder deodorant is best for sanitary napkins. Quest Powder, the Kotex deodorant, was created expressly for this use. Quest is unscented, safe, absolutely sure . . . and soft as silk. Also Quest Deodorant Powder absorbs moisture. Generous tin . . . 25c.

More women choose KOTEX* than all other napkins put together

☐ "That Day is Here Again", new FREE booklet for busy girls. Tells how to stay on the job on problem days. Gives facts on diet, cramps, exercise, lifting.

Would you entertain a mixed crowd with

- ☐ Your snapshot album
- ☐ A radio concert
- ☐ A Valentine Party

Hope you'd choose the Valentine party! To find partners, have your gang match halves of broken hearts. Make blindfolded couples hunt for candy molasses (a prize for the most). Cover your dashboard with a king-size heart, let everyone sling for top score. You can be a care-free hostess even on problem days, with the help of Kotex—for Kotex has patented ends—pressed flat, so they don't cause outlines. Not like thick, stubby pads, Kotex keeps your secret.

BRITISH MERCHANTMEN RAN NAZI BALTIC BLOCKADE

THIS stalwart fellow is typical of the daring crews who all through the war have kept up a freight service between the east coast of England and Baltic ports in Sweden.

PLANES WERE perhaps a bigger menace to the blockade runners than U-boats. Night and day men manned the Oerlikon AA guns and listened for the sound of planes.

NOW THAT it can be told, members of the crew of one of the blockade runners, the Nonsuch, chat about their adventures. They brought important personages from Sweden.

SOMETIMES the ships travelled as a flotilla. On such occasions the commodore directed operations. Above him is the naval red ensign. Left are Vickers guns.

But I've gotta tell you, Boss, I've got worms again. And they're getting me down, ruining my disposition. Soon I'll be just skin and bones.

I'll need Sergeant's SURE SHOT Capsules to lick these worms, now I'm a grown dog. When I was a pup, it was Sergeant's Puppy Capsules—remember? And they both work fast, clean out worms!

Let's run around to the drug store now, Boss, and get them. You can get a Sergeant's Dog Book, too, at stores or with this coupon.

THE achievement of the merchant ships who kept up communication with Sweden is now declared to have been one of the most important of the merchant marine's many contributions to the war. The vessels were small and their Diesel engines gave them high speed, and they could run away from U-boats and most surface craft. Their record of freedom from enemy interference is proof of real seamanship.

AMAZING PROFESSIONAL MOTHPROOFING METHOD

now available for home use

NO DOOR-NO WRAPPING-NO STORING AWAY

JUST a few minutes spraying with LARVEX—and Mrs. Neal has saved her husband's new suit from moth holes.

Now Mrs. Neal won't have the bother of wrapping up this suit or storing it away! She just puts it back in the closet on its usual hanger.

WHY? Moths will actually starve to death before they will eat LARVEXED clothes, sofas, or rugs!

This is the professional mothproofing method used by leading woollen mills, laundries, and dry cleaners.

And, LARVEX is inexpensive — only $34 for 16 ounces, $129 for 32 ounces. Dry-cleaning won't impair its year-long moth protection, either.

Protect all your woollens this professional way. Use LARVEX!

BLOCKADE running in the waters of the Skagerrak and Kattegat to the Swedish port, Lysekil, have been one of the little publicized achievements of the merchant marine. Here's the blockade runner Hopewell.

THE WORK of the lookout man is very important in this dangerous service. Behind him is an Oerlikon gun for defence against airplanes. The ship is the famous Nonsuch.

THE SEA is quiet but there is plenty of danger ahead as two blockade runners, the Nonsuch in the foreground, the Hopewell in front, approach the channels separating Denmark from Norway and Sweden. They have remained to the bitter end a refuge for the U-boats. The blockade runners are equipped with powerful engines and can carry much cargo.

IT'S A young man's game and the average of the crews including such stalwarts as those shown here is only 25. Some of them are youthful though bold striplings of 18.

PICTURESQUE TYPES IN SOVIET LANDS

IN THE FAR south of Russia's far-flung republics blossom time has already come and gone. This Tajik girl, in a land south of the Aral and Caspian seas, is charming in a floral setting.

KAZAKHISTAN, one of the southern republics, as large as Texas, is famous for poetry as well as iron and other minerals. Here is the picturesque national bard and poet, Djambul Dyabaev.

IT'S NOT too early for picnicking in a valley of the Soviet Pamirs which, like the Thibetan Pamirs, is also famous for mountain sheep. Note Chinese type of tea cups.

THIS venerable trio were the three oldest participants in an "olympiad" or festival of folk songs, dances and music held in the capital of the Abkhazian Soviet republic. Their names and ages, left to right, are: Badra Ardashelia, 76 years; Sharia Luka, 86, and the youngest, Nestor Yakobia, 70.

CANADA'S ONLY WOMAN PIPE MAJOR

PETITE, RED-HAired Lillian Grant of Victoria has every right to step out proudly, for there is no other girl in the land like her. She is the only woman pipe major in all Canada. She organized this band of 25 pipers, tenor drummers, side drummers and one bass drummer herself. It has played in 179 cities.

THE BASS drummer in a tiger skin is Peggy Hain. Left is Pipe Major Grant and, right, Piper Frances La Framboise, Lancaster.

"HERE'S looking at you from a great height," muse these six band losses, as they oblige the cameraman with a smile.

DRUMMER Jessica Anderson, London, Ont., is shining up the band's drums before parade. She breathes on the wood as she shines.

BACK HOME FOR KEEPS

There comes spring, laughing in the window.
There goes winter, away from your heart. It's all the happy days—the holy days rolled into one—you're laughing, you're crying, there are stars in your eyes—it's the day your man comes home.

And when you get right down to planning—for books and flowers, a friendly fire, polished tables, sparkling silverware—the Community* shares your dreams. Like you, we work away at our war jobs.
Like you, we look to tomorrow. That bright tomorrow, when we can once more fashion for Canada's brides, their all-time favorite Community.*
That shining tomorrow, when your man comes home.
And the day will come!
